4:00 pm - 7:30 pm (PST)

Location: 800 El Bosque Road, Santa Barbara, CA - On the Lawn

There will be Middle Eastern music for listening and simple circle dancing.

There will be time for stories and dialog.

Together with the Montecito Community Shul, we will celebrate the autumn season with an Interfaith gathering of the community commemorating the Feast of Sukkhot. In the Jewish tradition we remember a time when the community wandered through the desert with no shelter and little security. Commemorating the festival we will build a Sukkah, a small simple structure open to the weather, decorated with fruits of the harvest and messages of peace. We will learn what the Jewish people learned many generations ago, that our security does not come from the structures we build but from the relationships we build as we journey together in community.
